

On this day, 162 years ago, ... How would be this simple encounter, this cordial act of mutual commitment there in Tarragona, to embark the adventure of God in community, available to do everything, even to cross the oceans, with the only compass that polarized their ways, the one of the will of God, directing them to the mission to bring the Gospel which they intended to fully live up ...? Smiles and joy in their faces, illusion and communion. These are our roots!

With Mary, then, lift up our eyes, in faith, till our gaze is able to perceive ... the horizon is wide ... We continue our congregational journey.
